Valor Real Estate Partners announces two new hires and sponsorship of professional golfer, Paul Dunne

Valor Real Estate Partners (“Valor”) is delighted to announce the appointment of Brad Stitchberry and Camila Malzkorn to its growing team.

Brad joins as Head of Asset Management, where he will oversee all aspects of Valor’s project management, tenant relationships and leasing activity across the portfolio. Brad was previously Vice President - Market Officer at Prologis and prior to that held a similar role at KTR Capital, founded by Valor’s partners’ Jeffrey Kelter and Robert Savage, before it was acquired by Prologis in 2015.

Camila joins as an Associate within the Investments team and will support with sourcing and underwriting new investment opportunities. She previously worked at Moor Park Capital Partners.

Christian Jamison, Managing Partner said: “I am delighted to welcome Brad and Camila to the Valor team, both of whom bring a range of skills and experience to the firm. Having worked with KTR Capital and subsequently Prologis for over a decade, Brad’s deep understanding of the logistics sector, will be invaluable as we continue to capitalize on exciting opportunities in the pan-European logistics market.”

In addition, Valor has announced a two-year global sponsorship agreement with Paul Dunne, one of Ireland’s top globally-ranked golfers and 2017 British Master’s Champion. Valor’s support, together with KPMG, Bank of Ireland and Audemars Piguet, will enable him to compete internationally on the European PGA Tour.

Christian Jamison, Managing Partner said: “I am very pleased to announce Valor’s sponsorship of Paul Dunne. Paul is one of Ireland’s most exceptional golf professionals and we are very excited to be part of a group of sponsors’ supporting him to compete around the world. We wish him all the best for the remainder of the tour and for the years ahead.”

Paul Dunne said: “I am excited to have Valor on board as a new sponsor and am proud to be an Ambassador for them as I play around the world.”

About Valor Real Estate Partners

Valor Real Estate Partners LLP invests in logistics and industrial real estate across Europe.

Christian Jamison formed Valor Real Estate partners LLP (“Valor”) with KSH Capital LP (“KSH”) in 2016 to invest in logistics and industrial real estate across Europe.

KSH’s partners are Jeffrey Kelter and Robert Savage, the founders of KTR Capital, an investment, development and operating business focussed on industrial property in North America that was acquired by Prologis in 2015 for a total purchase price of $5.9BN.

Prior to Valor, Christian established Delin Capital Asset Management (“DCAM”) and served as the company’s CEO until his departure from the business in February 2016. During his tenure as CEO, Jamison established DCAM within the European logistics real estate sector, built a team and created Capital Preservation Portfolio 1, a €500mm fund of prime European logistics properties totalling 6 million square feet.

Paul came to prominence at the 2015 Open Championship where, playing as an amateur, he was tied for the lead after three rounds - the first amateur in 88 years to lead the Open after 54 holes. He went on to represent Great Britain and Ireland in the Walker Cup, helping them to a win over the USA. Paul earned his European Tour Card and spot in the 2016 Race to Dubai in the final stages of Qualifying School in November 2015. He played college golf at University of Alabama at Birmingham and as a junior, he was named the 2014 Conference USA Golfer of the Year. As a senior, he finished fifth in the individual competition at the 2015 NCAA Division Men's Golf Championship.

Before becoming one of the top emerging young players in the world, Paul graduated with a degree in Business Finance from the University of Alabama at Birmingham, USA.
